Rocca di Montegrossi 2013 Geremia
Gaiole in Chianti (Chianti Classico, Siena),
Tuscany

Red wine from Italy

Drinking window: 2020 - 2033

The 2013 Geremia shows just how exceptional this vintage is in Chianti Classico. Vibrant, powerful and structured, the 2013 is a thoroughbred that is going to need a number of years to be at its best. Black cherry, plum, exotic spice, graphite, sage and lavender infuse the intense, massively powerful finish. This fruit was picked on October 3 and 4, which is on the later side for the estate. What a wine!

Rocca di Montegrossi 2012 Chianti
Classico Vigneto San Marcellino

Gaiole in Chianti (Chianti Classico, Siena),

Red wine from Italy

Drinking window: 2017 - 2027

The 2012 Chianti Classico Vigneto San Marcellino shows the intensity of the year in its radiant, super-ripe fruit. At nearly five years of age, the 2012 is starting to show the first signs of aromatic development. I would prefer to drink it over the next decade or so. Even with all of its intensity, though, the 2012 retains a midweight sense of structure.

Rocca di Montegrossi 2015 Chianti
Classico

Gaiole in Chianti (Chianti Classico, Siena),
Tuscany

Red wine from Italy

Drinking window:

The 2015 Chianti Classico is gorgeous. Dark cherry, plum, lavender, spice and leather are nicely pushed forward in this attractive, supple Chianti Classico. The ripeness of the year comes through nicely, but without distorting the wine's very classic, midweight feel. Although quite ripe, the 2015 retains striking minerality and salinity.
